COMPLETION July 2013

While the initial congregation at Ahoghill First Presbyterian Church was established in 1654, the church's current meeting house has come a long way since then. The recent new build is a modern and expansive building where the church hosts Sunday services, women's groups, holiday Bible clubs, youth clubs and much more.

We supplied all mechanical works to this incredible facility, including heating, plumbing, ventilation and sanitation, as well as fully automated BEMS. Our services ensured the church was well equipped to host its many fantastic activities.
